SPEAKING ONE-SHEET · ALIGNED INK

Shani Bahar Azulay

The people change. The ending stays the same.

Talks on why a pattern keeps coming back, the life lesson waiting inside it, and Magnetic Medicine. Practical and quiet: every audience leaves with writing questions they can use the same evening.

TALKS

1. The People Change. The Ending Stays the Same.
Why smart, self-aware women keep living the same pattern, and how to read the life lesson inside it. Participants name their pattern, map its steps and find its first sign.

2. Magnetic Medicine: Change That Starts Below the Mind
The shift is anchored first in the energetic layers that connect body and soul, and only then reaches awareness. Why insight alone so often fails, and what becomes possible when the work begins beneath it.

3. Why Writing, Not Reading, Closes the Gap.
Decoding a pattern in writing so it can be recognized while it is happening, not only afterwards.

4. Boundaries by Enabling, Not by Force.
A calm, clear choice made inside first, for teams and communities where people say yes when they mean no.
